Mi'kmaw Indigenous Patient Navigator (MIPN)

The Mi'kmaw Indigenous Patient Navigator (MIPN) is a service that is available to all Indigenous people receiving care or services at Nova Scotia Health, and their support people.

We can help you:

- Communicate with your health care providers
- Make sure your health care providers are meeting your cultural and spiritual needs
- Make sure you receive culturally safe care
- Coordinate your care with Mi'kmaq Indigenous health systems in Nova Scotia, and other community partners

We are also available to help Nova Scotia Health clinical staff deliver time-sensitive, culturally safe care.
