Staying Active

Guidelines

- Adults 18 years old or older should get at least 150 minutes of moderate to vigorous (see below) aerobic activity a week, for at least 10 minutes or more at a time.
- Aerobic activity is exercise that makes your heart beat faster and causes you to breathe faster. This makes your heart pump more blood through your body, bringing more oxygen (air) to your body's muscles.
- It is also good to do muscle and bone strengthening activities using major muscle groups at least 2 days a week.
- The resources in this pamphlet can help you choose the right activities for you.

The more physical activity you do, the more health benefits you will have.

Intensity

Intensity is how hard an exercise or activity is for you to do.

- Low intensity: you are able to talk and breathe normally
 - › Examples: easy walking, gardening, housework, stretching

Pick a time and a place.
Make a plan and move!

- Join a community running or walking group.
- Go for a brisk walk around the block.
- Try yoga.
- Bike or walk to work.
- Rake the lawn.
- Take the dog for a walk.
- Go for a nature hike.
- Take up a favourite sport again.
- Be active with your friends and family members.
- Join a charity run or walk.

 - › Examples: brisk walking, biking
- Vigorous intensity: causes you to sweat and be out of breath
 - › Examples: cross-country skiing, swimming, jogging

Benefits

- Being active for least 150 minutes a week can help lower your risk of:
 - › Premature (early) death
 - › Heart disease
 - › Stroke
 - › High blood pressure
 - › Certain types of cancer
 - › Type 2 diabetes
 - › Osteoporosis
 - › Being overweight or obese
 - › Diabetes complications, if you already have diabetes (like amputations, kidney failure, vision loss)

It can also improve your strength, overall fitness, and mental health.
